CONSTRUCTION & PUBLIC WORKS

“Zeendoc, the solution that supports me in my digital transformation.”

NEEDS

We had two main objectives: First, to automate the accounting entry of our supplier invoices, as this task is time-consuming and tedious.

Second, to improve document circulation both internally and across different sites, while also freeing up storage space.

IMPLEMENTATION

Today, 30 people within the group use Zeendoc, with the accounting and HR departments being the primary users of the solution.

There was no resistance to change, as employees quickly became familiar with the tool—it is a time-saving solution.

In Zeendoc, we have set up document cabinets to manage:

- Our 1,000 supplier invoices per month.
- Our 800 client invoices per month.
- The payslips for our 200 employees spread across multiple sites.

We send our contracts electronically to our clients via Zeendoc and have started implementing internal contracts with alerts for deadlines.

“We chose this solution not only because it meets our needs but also because it offers us so much more.”

RESULTS

Zeendoc has improved document circulation both internally and externally because it is more than just a document management system:

- Once invoices are sent via secure email, we have better tracking of client invoices because Zeendoc allows us to see if they have been received, downloaded, and how long ago. If they haven't been accessed, we can schedule automatic follow-ups.
- We still send some paper invoices, but this process is now automated through a postal service integrated within Zeendoc.
- The 200 payslips are sent with a single click directly to our employees' personal digital safes, making them instantly accessible.

The management team now has much simpler access to documents. From anywhere, including my smartphone, I can easily consult all client and supplier invoices, as well as the group's payslips, in just a few clicks.

There is greater speed and efficiency in our exchanges with our accountant and statutory auditor, as we provide them direct access to our Zeendoc client/supplier document cabinets. This eliminates the need to send invoices via email or exchange paper binders.

Once the solution was implemented, automating accounting entries saved us nearly 5 hours per accountant per month.

All these elements have saved us a lot of time in research, but also in productivity by handling documents as little as possible.

We have also saved on storage space, with approximately 50 fewer binders per year.

We have 10,000 fewer printouts per year by no longer copying invoices, which represents a real saving on printing costs, but also allows us to align with a CSR approach.

“The digitisation of our 200 payslips saves our HR team 1 or 2 hours per month.”

The Future

We want to set up a cabinet for leave requests directly in Zeendoc.

Mr Antoine has already played an advisory role for several companies and says he is ready to continue recommending Zeendoc by highlighting the tool's performance, ease of use, and fast document search by keyword.

“It is a very simple solution to implement in a company.”
